

Kiel, 15. October 2020

C2G Guest Post: Solar Geoengineering, Compensation, and Parametric Insurance: Insights from the Pacific

"Compensation is a central issue in considering the possible future deployment of solar geoengineering [\[1\]](#) for two reasons. First and most obvious, corrective justice would require compensating those who are harmed. Second, without a credible compensation mechanism, many states would likely oppose deployment by imposing high short-term costs such as trade or financial sanctions on would-be deployers."

LINK

Linked to: risks , Solar Radiation Management

0 Comments

Add a comment

You need to be logged in to add comments.