

Kiel, 17. May 2016

NATO Association of Canada: Climate Mitigation vs. Geoengineering: What should the future look like?

"In the context of policy proposals, countries should seriously fund research on the use of sulphate aerosols as part of the SRM approach, which in the future could be used as a complementary solution to addressing climate change alongside mitigation policies. Currently, very few countries are funding geoengineering including China, Norway, and Germany, among others."

Link

Linked to: climate politics

0 Comments

Add a comment

You need to be logged in to add comments.