

Kiel, 31. May 2015

[press review] Climate engineering and coral bleach

Press review to Kwiatkowski, Lester; et al. \(2015\) on saving coral reefs from mass bleaching.

25.05.

Eco News Today: Climate engineering may save coral reefs, study shows

University of Queensland: Climate engineering 'might save coral reefs'

26.05.

Eureka Alert: Climate engineering may save coral reefs, study shows

Business Insider: Climate engineering may be the only way to save coral reefs

myScience: Climate engineering 'might save coral reefs'

Pluz News: "Climate engineering may better protect coral reefs"

TechieNews: Climate geoengineering could be the only way to save coral reefs

Business Standard: Climate engineering may save coral reefs: study

ZeeNews: Climate engineering may better protect coral reefs

The Economic Times: Climate engineering may save coral reefs: Study

Nature World News: Coral Reefs: Is Climate Engineering the Key to Saving Them?

27.05.

Whitsunday Coast Guardian: University of Queensland tackles coral bleaching

The Hansindia: Climate engineering may better protect coral reefs

28.05.

New Wearable Technology Blog: Geoengineering, human weapon to save coral reefs

29.05.

Futurity: Coral reefs may need more than carbon cuts

Climate News Network: Aerosols may offer short-term lifeline to corals in crisis

30.05.

Ecologist: Geoengineer or our tropical reefs will die, scientists warn

0 Comments

Add a comment

You need to be logged in to add comments.